Elizabeth Harrison, Before Mother s Department of the Chicago Kindergarten College, December 12, 1900 Having eyes to see, ye see not; having ears to hear, ye hear not. There is perhaps no saying of the Master which shows deeper insight into human needs than these words. There is an outer and an inner eye, an outer and an inner ear, an outer and an inner life, and it is the lack of consciousness of this inner life which shows itself upon the vacant, tired and miserable faces which we see so often upon the street or in the street cars; faces which tell of hungry hearts and souls, more pitiful to him who discerns their real meaning than any deformity of body or disease of organs can be, for life is rich or poor according as this inner world is full or empty. Half the people of the world pass through life without knowing what is the matter with them, blind to great opportunities, deaf to deep relationships, unconscious of the wonderful revelations which are unfolding about them every day. I remember one summer spending two weeks in Dresden for the sake of studying the Dresden gallery. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
