Excerpt: . . . on amendments to by-laws was presented by the chairman, Mr. Insull, and this committee was continued, the incoming president and first vice-president being added to the committee. The President: I will ask Mr. Nicholls, chairman of the committee on nominations, to make his report. Mr. Nicholls: Mr. President and Gentlemen: Your nominating committee, appointed yesterday, has had several sessions since its appointment. It has resolved itself into committees of one, and has industriously discussed the matter of nominations among the members of the association, in order to ascertain the general trend of feeling on the subject. It has also had in view the general prosperity and welfare of the association, and the fact that its membership has been augmented largely during the past year. I can assure you that its deliberations have been conducted with the utmost fairness and with the interests of the association only at heart. We make the following nominations: For president, Henry L. Doherty, Denver, Colorado. cago, Illinois. For second vice-president, Charles B. Hunt, London, Ontario. For members of the executive committee for three conventions: Charles L. Edgar, of Boston, Massachusetts; D. P. Robinson, of Seattle, Washington, and C. C. Howell, of Knoxville, Tennessee. For members of the executive committee for two conventions: E. L. Bemiss, of New Orleans, Louisiana, and Dudley Farrand, of Newark, New Jersey. Mr. Price: I move that the report of the committee be accepted and the secretary authorized to deposit one ballot on behalf of...
