As I continued to get older and go through school the social stuff would become more difficult. It seemed like kids were becoming more and more advanced, learning more skills, and leaving me behind. If it had not been for a coping mechanism that I picked up from my special interest that developed from my ability to escape into imagination and create a make believe world, I don't think I would have made it through school. School was difficult, painful, and emotionally draining. Thankfully I had the trombone to keep me going. As I entered my freshman year I realized that I had no friends. I started band camp that year desperately wanting to make some new acquaintances. I was hoping high school would be a little different than middle school and that maybe it would be easier to develop these friendships that I had longed for. But I would find out that wasn't the case. By the time Christmas came my freshman year I had been rejected over and over again and just wanted to leave high...
