L. Hibbard, general superintendent of the Coast Lines of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, was born in Woodhull, X. Y. , in 1857, and has been a railroad man since 1876. He began on the Erie at Elmira, and from there went to Boston as a clerk in the General Eastern Office. Then for three years he was with the Bee Line at St. Louis as a clerk in the general freight office, and from there went to Forrest, Ill , where he was a trainmaster for the Wabash. In March, 1890, Mr. Hibbard resigned from the Wabash to become trainmaster at San Bernardino, for the Southern California. In 1897, he was appointed superintendent of the Albuquerque Division of the Santa Fe at Winslow, Arizona, and six years later was transferred to the Los Angeles Division, from which position he is now promoted to be general superintendent. Amos Caryl Ridgway Amos Caryl Ridgway, who has been appointed General Manager of the Denver and Rio Grande, was born at Delaware Water the United States the worst accidents are due to the failure of bridges or trestles, collisions, and the running over of individuals at level crossings. Simple derailments are not exceptionally numerous. We may say, therefore, that in the United States material plays a much larger part than it does in this country; and the disasters which are brought about by personal errors are largely the result...
