Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from High School Act: Nineteen Hundred and Nine; Information, Regulations, Suggested Courses of Study Ninety-six State-aided high schools are now in operation in South Carolina. Though these are distributed among thirty-six counties, Anderson, Greenville, Orangeburg and Marion are the only counties qualifying for the full amount allowed by the High School Act. The Legislature, at its last session, raised the appropriation to $60,000.00, and this increase provides for the establishment of at least twenty-five additional high schools. In no case will the establishment of a high school be allowed to impair the efficiency of the common school. Under the amended Act of 1909, any village with less than four hundred population may establish a high school, if fifteen pupils are enrolled above the seventh grade. Every high school district must levy at least a two-mill tax for either high school or common school purposes. Special attention is called to Regulation No. 17 relative to high school salaries. In village and rural schools employing four teachers, one teacher will be allowed to divide time between high school and common school departments. State aid for the school year 1909-1910 will not be granted until each school has made application on the form prescribed by the State High School Board. The amount of State aid will, in each instance, be determined partly by enrollment and partly by the character of work done. Any school making fourteen units will be given the maximum of $700.00 allowed by the High School Law. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
